Potomac Harmony Chorus sings four-part harmony, barbershop style, under the direction of Master Director Ozzi Mask. We perform at local public events as well as private celebrations. Our performances include a wide variety of musical selections from traditional favorites to 50's tunes to modern jazz.

Potomac Harmony Chorus is made up of a diverse group of women from the Washington Metropolitan area, ranging in ages from teens to eighties, all sharing a love of harmonizing and entertaining.

The chorus participates in numerous community activities including the Arlington County Fair, the Lubber Run Amphitheater Summer Program, and the Ballston Commons Shopping Mall Holiday Celebration.

In addition, we present an Annual Fall Show for the general public, deliver "Singing Valentines" in February, and perform for various businesses and non-profit organizations.

Potomac Harmony Chorus meets every Monday evening at 7:30 pm in the Social Hall at Faith Lutheran Church, located on the corner of N. Jackson Street and Route 50 in Arlington, VA.
